Overview:

The magic of photography has not only intrigued me, but the translation from the click of the shutter to the finished image has always amazed me.

Buying my first SLR way back in the eighties opened the door for me into the world of photography. However, through life's many twists and turns, photography took an unwanted back seat for a number of years.

In recent years, I've had the opportunity to travel, and my trusty Canon accompanies me on every occasion. Two lenses, a 12-24, and a 24-105 come along for the view....

I don't think I've developed a particularly recognisable photographic style....

I just love to see the results. You saw the light and you captured it. ☺.
