

Irish Photographers featured in this months PSA Journal

Last month Denis Whelehan was elected an Associate (APSA) of the Society in recognition of his service to PSA. PSA (Photographic Society of America) is a worldwide organization of both amateur and professional photographers, with members in over 70 countries. The PSA web site at www.psaphoto.org contains information about PSA, its activities, benefits, and membership opportunities.

There is a PSA logo at the bottom of the main screen on the DPS website where you can find more information about the PSA and some articles from the PSA's monthly Journal publication.

This months Journal features an article about Denis, but also including images from new Irish PSA members, including one image from clubmember Michelle McNally.

The New Member Gallery

This feature of the PSA Journal showcases the diverse interests, technical skills, varied techniques, and outstanding quality of the Society's new members. Those joining the Photographic Society of America (PSA) are invited to submit one image to the online New Member Gallery. Periodically, photographs from this gallery are featured in the Journal.

This month we would like to present the photography of the new members from Region 28 (Ireland). Denis Whelehan joined PSA in 2005 and has been a PSA International Representative since 2006. He has served as Region Director for the last three years and led this region to a membership increase of over 16%, while recruiting a total of 52 new members. Shown are beautiful images from new members depicting stunning landscapes, alluring portraits, and serene settings. We would like to congratulate Denis on his commitment to PSA, and look forward to more amazing photography from our Irish constituents.
