

Annual Exhibition

10th April 2015 - An Táin Basement Gallery

We are really, really excited about this year's Exhibition being run professionally by An Táin. Michael O'Sullivan, IPF President, will formally open the exhibition and our highly decorated and distinguished judge, this year, is Peter Rees. Let's not fail to mention the very high standard of images that have been produced by our members during the year. We can be very proud of our club, its achievements and our own personal contributions to its continued success. So here's to a great exhibition to celebrate a fantastic year in DPS.

As you can see from the image above, the hanging of frames in the gallery is complete and the exhibition will open Friday night, 10th April, 2015 and will remain open for one month.

Dark Room Exhibition

We have set up a Dark Room Display in a small room in the Basement Gallery that will be roped off from the public. Members have loaned dark room equipment to the club for this purpose for the duration of the exhibition and we are sure it will make an interesting exhibit for everyone.

Catering

All the drinks and food for the opening night will be provided by, and served by, An Táin, so every member will be able to enjoy the opening of the exhibition in the company of their guests.

Sale of Images

An Táin Arts Centre is a commercial entity whose main function is to promote and sell art exhibited in the centre and, as such, individual members were given this option. An Táin will provide a catalogue of all images now that they have been hung in the Basement Gallery.
