

National Shield 2015

Saturday last, 7th November, 28 Irish Photographic Clubs put forth their non-advanced monochrome and colour panels to compete for the National Shield, which was again hosted by Malahide. The judging panel was populated by Caroline Colgate ARFPS, Christine Widdal MPAGB AFIAP and Tim Pile EFIAP/s AIPF ARPS

We were placed a very respectable 6th in the colour with 392 points and tied with St Brigids Photo Group on 374 in the monochrome. A big 'thank you' is extended to each photographer who submitted work for consideration.

The following eligible club members had works accepted:

Aga Glowala
Mark English
Dermot Ahern
Maeve Ahern
Mark Conroy
Alexander Loshkavrov
Evalds Gaspazins
Andrew O'Connor
John McGee

Chairman of the IPF during his address extended his thanks to our club member Denis Whelehan for his work and contribution towards competitions and events.

Our National Shield coordinator Brendan Tumilty did us proud on the day with our images presented in a pristine fashion. We had the only panels cut square and embossed. Several people commented on how well presented the panels were.
